GMaps For Xcelsius

- Add-on for visualizing and navigating geographic data within a Google Maps interface
- Unique locations, labels, values, colors and marker icon styles
- Intergrated with Xcelsius APIs for robust regional analysis
- Connects directly to Google Maps Premier
- No software installation
- Deploy Xcelsius dashboards securely

GMaps Plugin Property

- API Key is required prior to interacting
- Series Name- Distinguish a unique series on the map using the Series
- Region/Address- Associate multiple geographical points for a single series within the Google Map interface
- Labels- Define textual label values with each marker in a particular series
- Values- Identify a numerical value with each marker in a particular series
- Data Insertion- Bind the Position insertion type, commonly found in Xcelsius selector components, to a single cell
- Series Name Destination-Bind the series name to a single cell

The screenshot shows the 'General' tab of the GMaps Plugin Property dialog. It features a 'Series' list on the left containing 'Series 1'. To the right, there are input fields for 'Series Name' (containing 'Series 1'), 'Region/Address', 'Labels', 'Values', and 'Icon Colors (Option)'. Below these are 'Data Insertion' and 'Insertion Type' (set to 'Position') fields. At the bottom, there are 'Destination' and 'Series Name Destination' fields, and an 'API Key' field containing the value `'Sheet1'!$A$1`. Each input field has a small map icon to its right. The dialog also has tabs for 'Behavior', 'Appearance', and 'Information'.
